Your Financial Bridge™

Bridging East and West

A bridge is a marvel of planning and vision. It is a solid, sturdy structure that provides easy passage over an insurmountable barrier. A bridge can also serve as a conduit, a channel of communication, a pathway to understanding.

Given our vast multicultural knowledge and resources, East West Bank has the unique ability to act as a dynamic bridge for our customers, assisting them in achieving their cross-cultural and cross-border personal and business objectives.

East West Bank has developed a unique strategy to help enrich and augment our extraordinary strengths as a natural bridge. It is our goal not only to connect customers to new opportunities, but to connect people and cultures to one another in ways that expand perspectives and foster prosperity.

Dear Shareholders, Customers and Friends:

At East West Bank, the bridge has always been an important symbol. Over the years, it has come to represent our unique role as the premier financial bridge between east and west. Of course, the true genius of any bridge lies not merely in its structure but in its implementation. By linking our growth and evolution to the diverse communities and cultures we serve, our bridge strategy has proven to be one of our greatest strengths, ensuring outstanding results and long term success.

Our strong position in the marketplace, together with our unique bridge strategy and consistent focus on fundamentals, enabled East West Bank to deliver its tenth consecutive year of record performance. Over the last ten years, through numerous economic cycles, we achieved a remarkable earnings per share compound annual growth rate of 43%. In 2006, despite the volatile interest rate environment, the strength of our core business units once again produced strong results. Diluted earnings per share grew 19% from a year ago to a record $2.35 — one of the highest EPS growth rates among our peer banks and our fifth straight year of double-digit EPS growth. Net income was up a very strong 32% from a year ago to a record $143.4 million, and total assets reached a record high of $10.82 billion. The increase in assets is primarily attributable to our loan growth momentum. We achieved double-digit growth in all major areas of our lending portfolio. Net loans increased $1.46 billion, a 22% increase over 2005, and total new loan originations grew to $4.74 billion, a 28% increase over the prior year.

It is important to add that we achieved these results without compromising our commitment to sound underwriting standards and disciplined pricing. Credit quality remained strong throughout our entire lending portfolio, with nonperforming assets representing a marginal 0.18% of total assets at year-end. Total loan chargeoffs were a mere $515,000 which were offset by $999,000 in recoveries, resulting in a net loan recovery of $484,000 for the year. We believe that credit quality will remain solid for the foreseeable future and do not anticipate any downward trends or deterioration in credit.

Our excellent lending results are offset by the effects of a very competitive deposit market. As is the case throughout the industry, the short-term profitability of our deposit portfolio is being negatively affected as deposit rates continue to increase faster than loan yields, and as customers shift deposit balances to higher rate products. However, despite these current challenges, our deposit franchise and branch network remain healthy and are well-positioned for the long run. Total deposits reached $7.24 billion for the year, a 16% increase over 2005. Core deposits reached $3.46 billion in 2006, an 11% increase over the prior year, and we continue to focus on building commercial deposits, which reached $2.27 billion for the year, a 13% increase over 2005. In 2007, we will expand our branch network in California with the opening of new commercial banking centers in Fremont, Ontario and Pasadena and will relocate and expand our commercial banking center in Irvine. To further augment our commercial banking business and increase our market share in Greater China, we opened a full-service branch in Hong Kong and received approval to establish a representative office in Shanghai. East West Bank's presence and success in the marketplace were further strengthened by the addition of seasoned commercial business bankers to our ranks — relationship managers who are distinguished by a level of dedication and responsiveness matched by few.

In the vital area of corporate governance, East West Bank is consistently recognized for having the right leadership, management and control structures in place to produce and sustain the delivery of value to shareholders. Once again, Institutional Shareholder Services gave East West Bank one of its highest ratings for corporate governance. We achieved a better rating than 99% of S&P 600 companies and 99.6% of other banks.

We were also acknowledged by The Wall Street Journal in their February 26, 2007 "Shareholder Scoreboard" as the third best performing bank in the United States based on our 5-year average rate of return, almost double the industry group average.

Marked by strategic expansion, solid growth and increased strength, 2006 served as a bridge to the future for East West Bank. As a result, we are poised and ready to seek out the many new opportunities that lie ahead. We extend our gratitude to all of our shareholders, customers, employees and friends for your continued support and for allowing us to serve as your financial bridge.

Bridging Our Past With Our Future

At East West Bank, bridging clients to new personal and business heights is one of our greatest strengths. Our bridge strategy is inherent to our cross-cultural legacy. Since entering the financial landscape in Los Angeles over 30 years ago with an office in Chinatown and seven employees, we have grown into one of the best-performing banks in the nation with over $10 billion in assets.

Historically, we built our business by catering to the specialized needs of our Chinese immigrant customers who were often overlooked by mainstream banks. We provided them with personalized financial services free from the credit, language and cultural barriers encountered at more traditional banks. In doing so, we helped our customers create a connection between east and west and forged strong, lasting relationships in the process.

Today, East West Bank continues its proud tradition of providing personalized, value-added service from a broader platform. As a full-service financial institution, we maintain our position and loyalty with our niche retail market, while utilizing our bridge strategy to grow into mainstream and other ethnic commercial markets. Our customer-aligned financial products and services perfectly complement the needs of commercial businesses in California's thriving middle market — the same market often overlooked by larger banks.

Bridging Our Customers' Needs
With Speed, Access and Flexibility

As we continue to grow and evolve, we also continue to place an emphasis on the financial solutions and services we provide to our customers. At East West Bank, we partner with our business customers to help them better understand the market and work with them to succeed within it. Our strong community roots and cross-border capabilities leave us naturally positioned to serve as a link between east and west. We have the capacity to function as both a large and a small bank, giving us a number of distinct advantages over the competition:

Access. Unlike large, impersonal banks, we provide our customers with access to seasoned staff members who can deliver timely decisions and expertly adapt to changing market conditions.

Speed. We embrace a horizontal management style that encourages collaboration in service to our customers across all areas of the organization. This style, combined with our financial stability and relationship focus, allows us to meet our customers' needs with remarkable speed and efficiency.

Flexibility. We have a dedicated focus to get our customers' deals done. That could mean taking the time to dig deeper into a customer's circumstances than other banks. Or it could mean investing the time and energy that might not normally be expected from a business partner. Whatever the formula, our success comes one customer at a time — doing what it takes to meet their unique financial needs and reach their goals.

Strengthening Our Bridge Capabilities

In 2006, East West Bank reached $10.8 billion in assets while celebrating its tenth consecutive year of record earnings. This increased level of economic scale has provided us with increased lending power and execution capabilities, facilitating our ability to broaden our commercial customer base. Our new financial strength has also allowed us to strategically invest in our infrastructure by strengthening our talent pool, expanding our regional and bridge markets and developing new products and services.

East West Bank recognizes the importance of keeping in step with our commercial customers' evolving needs. Our Trade Finance Services offer customized solutions that provide working capital financing through letters of credit, U.S. Ex-Im Bank guarantees for exports and the use of Internet technology in service delivery via tradeBridge.™ Our Commercial Lending Services can tailor a variety of financing options such as asset-based lending, working capital lines, equipment leasing and SBA loans.

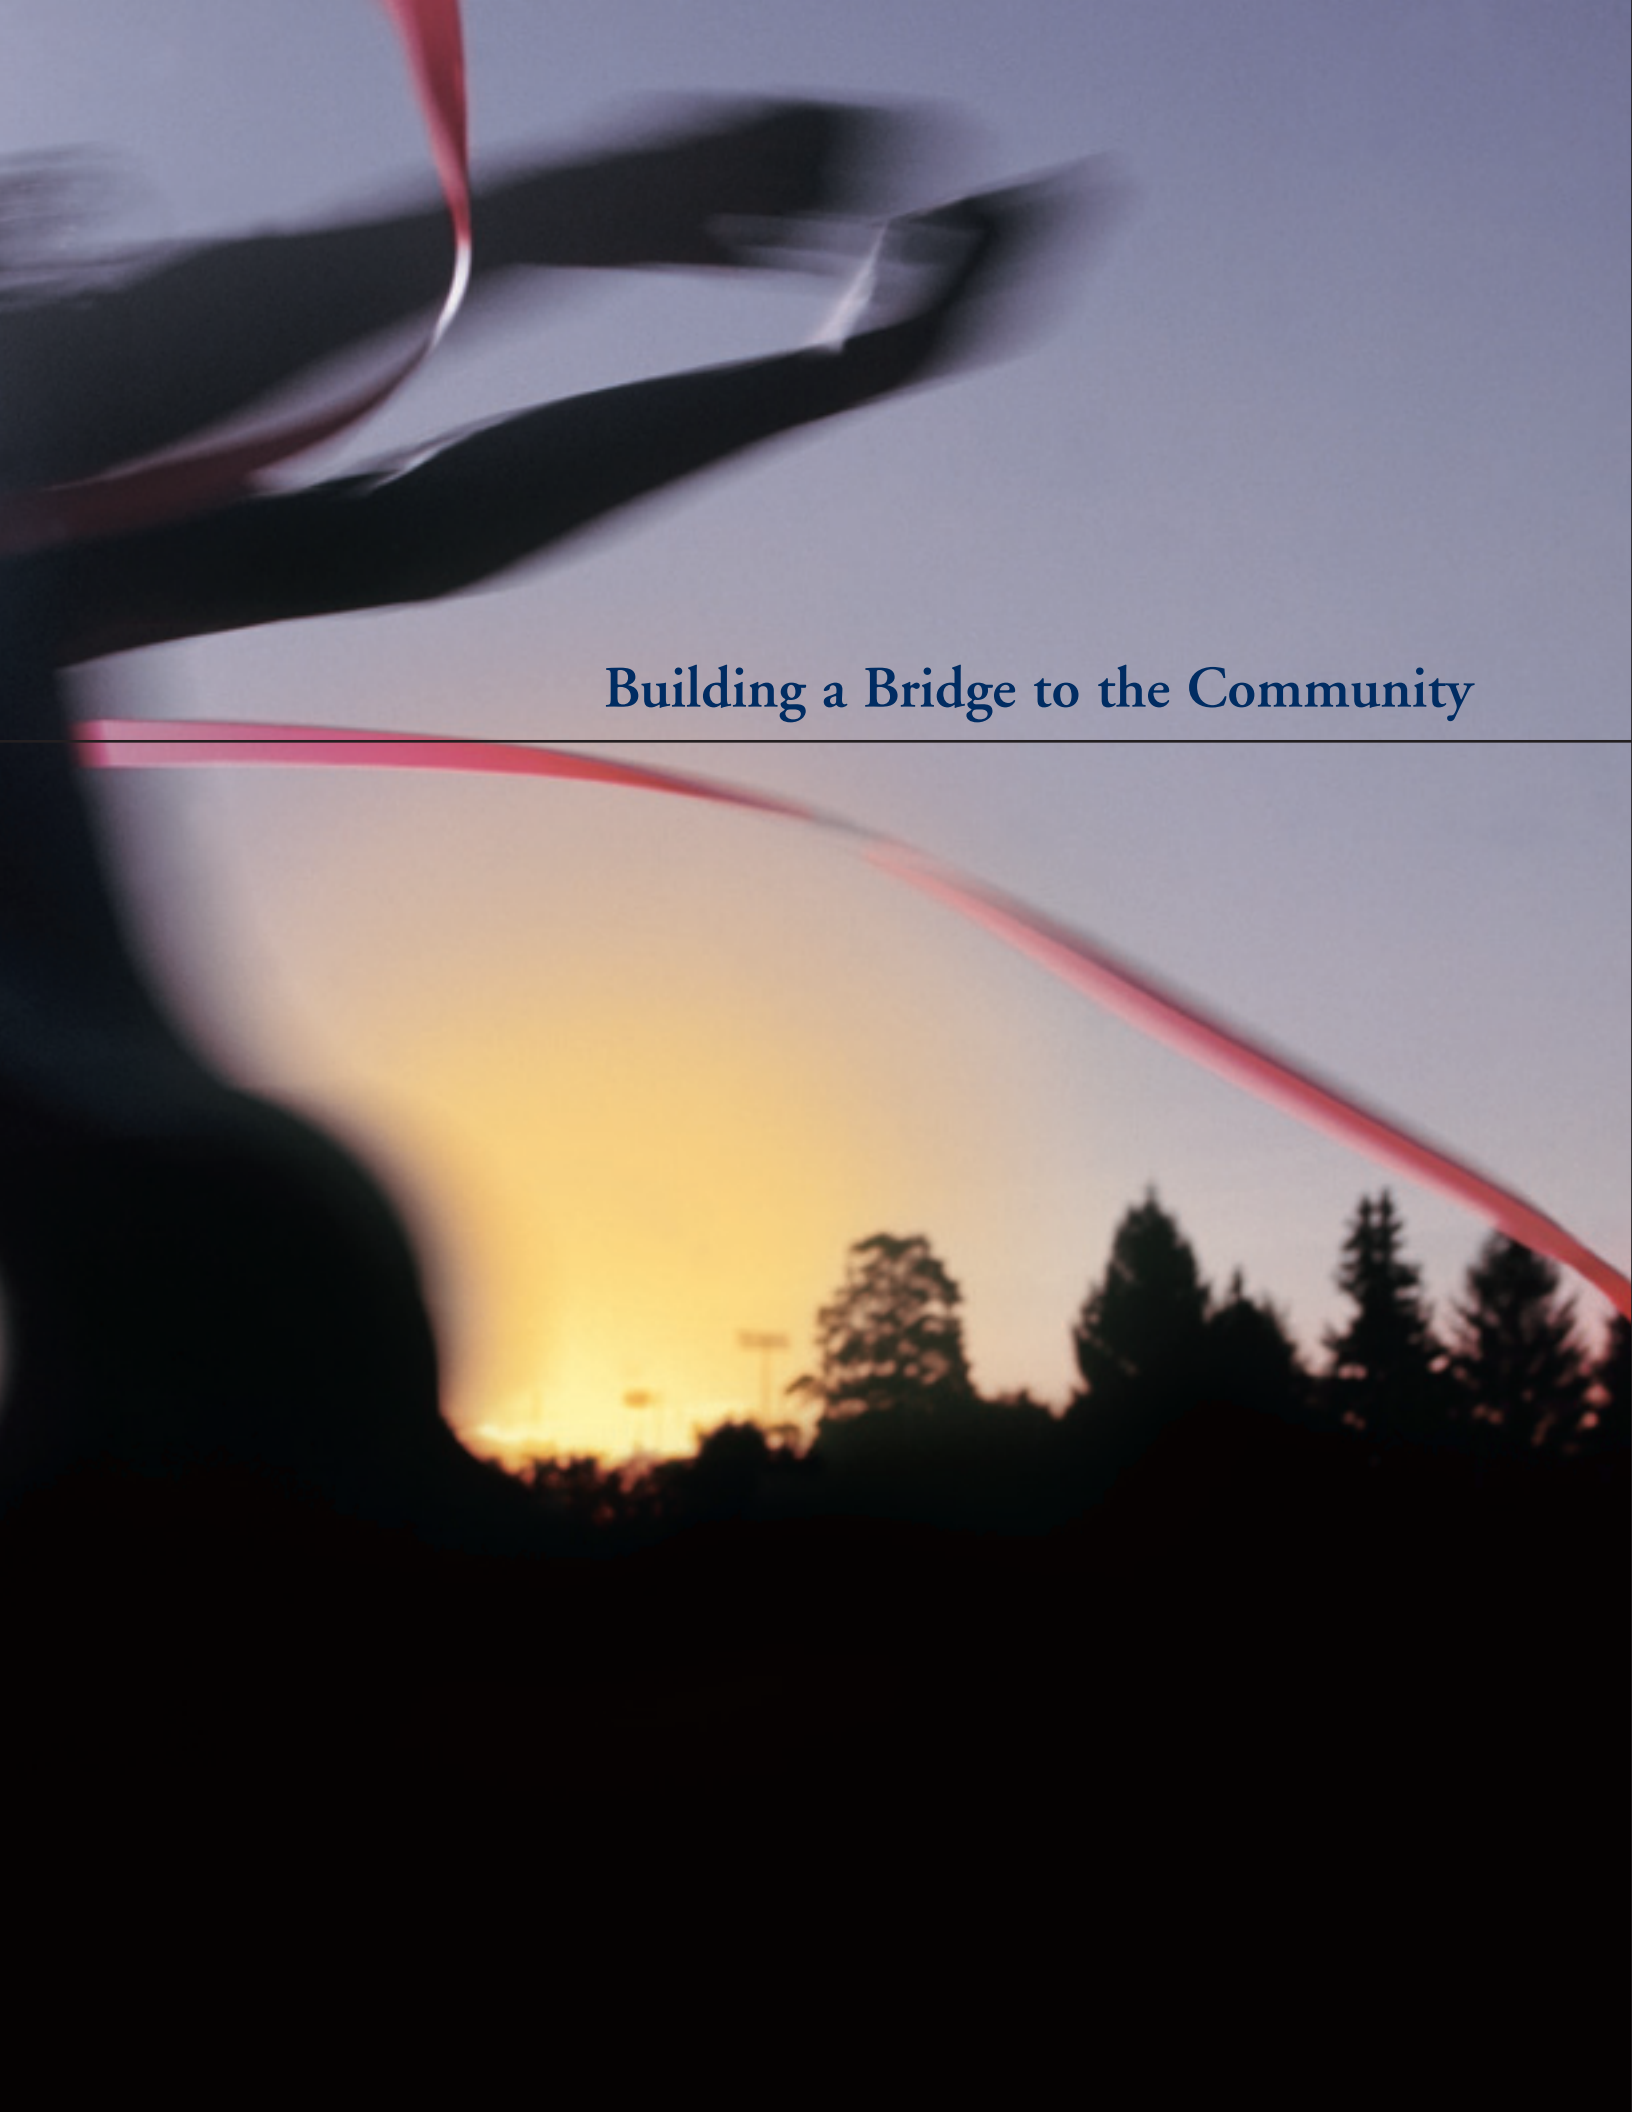

Through our team of seasoned bankers, we provide experienced knowledge to help our customers reach their goals. Whether your interests are in construction loans, affordable and senior housing programs or credit enhancement of low-income housing revenue bonds, we work in partnership with you to achieve success. Likewise, our complete range of Treasury Management products and services help our customers easily access and monitor their companies' resources in key areas.

Growing Customers' Businesses With Our Bridge Strategy

As the premier financial bridge between east and west, we are able to provide our customers with the expertise to help them access revenue, trade, and investment opportunities that currently exist in rapidly emerging markets. In addition to locations in Hong Kong, Beijing and Shanghai, we offer a multilingual, ethnically diverse staff with vast resources and connections. It is this unique combination of support and leverage that makes East West Bank the right choice for customers looking to take their business ventures to new levels.

In keeping with our bridge strategy, we have been expanding our reach throughout the global marketplace. Often acting as an emissary between investors, manufacturers, and importers, we support the global business needs of our customers by using our cross-border strengths to link them to relevant opportunities within high-performing markets.

Building a Bridge to the Community

East West Bank has grown alongside the unique communities we serve and remains dedicated to their success. We pursue a wide range of good works in the community designed to improve the quality of life and provide multicultural experiences and opportunities for residents and businesses.

Demonstrating our commitment to cultural diversity and education, East West Bank is aligned with respected institutions and individuals dedicated to the same cause. For instance, when East West Bank learned that the Bowers Museum in Santa Ana, California, was considering dedicating a gallery to showcase Asian culture, we immediately responded by assisting with the fundraising to help the museum achieve its goal. The extraordinary exhibition, Treasures from Shanghai: 5000 Years of Chinese Art and Culture, fulfilled a dream for East West Bank and the museum to provide a new and vivid way for the mainstream community to learn about Chinese culture. We are honored that the gallery has been named the East West Bank Gallery.

We also pledged one million dollars to the Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens in San Marino, California, to help support the development of an authentic Chinese Garden that will be the largest of its kind ever to be constructed outside of China. The Jade Ribbon Bridge within the garden will display the East West Bank name as a symbol of our dedication to bridging cultures. The Chinese Garden will serve as a public venue to host a variety of educational programs and as a place of cultural enrichment for the community. East West Bank's pledge is the largest corporate donation ever made to the Huntington Library.

In the spirit of understanding the importance of education, we sponsored a drawing and essay contest on "The Pursuit of Excellence" for students in grades K-12. Our East West Bank spokesperson, Michelle Kwan, presented East West Bank scholarships to the winners. The U.S. State Department recently appointed Michelle the first American Public Diplomacy Envoy, a position that serves as the perfect bridge between the U.S. and Greater China.
