LETTER TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS

Dear Shareholder,

I am pleased to report a successful year for F.N.B. Corporation and as we move forward, many opportunities to further our achievements. As in previous years, we realized stable, consistent growth throughout the course of the year. In 2006 the total return to our investors was 11.3%, well in excess of our national peer group's median of 8.9% and our regional peer group's median return of 7.6%. I'm proud to say that our dividend yield is one of the highest of all bank holding companies of our size in the United States. Also, the 2006 results for F.N.B. Corporation met the analysts' consensus estimate for earnings of $1.14 per diluted share. Even though our industry continued to face strong headwinds in the form of a flat and then slightly inverted yield curve, we were able to overcome the forces of margin compression through superior asset quality and tight expense control. High performance at F.N.B. Corporation is guided by a focus to achieve a solid return on equity and assets. In 2006 our return on equity was 13.2% and our return on assets was 1.2%.

Our goals for continued growth and shareholder value have remained the same since our strategic plan was implemented in 2004, and we have achieved these goals each year. Our strategic goals include:

1) provide superior financial performance, 2) expand into markets which provide greater growth opportunities, 3) maintain a low risk profile, 4) grow organically, and 5) maintain a strong cash dividend. These goals form the road map for our continued journey of staying on track and driving success.

At F.N.B. Corporation, one of our ongoing key strategies for success is supplementing our modest growth opportunities with expansion into higher growth markets. This was accomplished in late May 2006 with the acquisition of Harrisburg-based Legacy Bank. An eight-branch institution concentrated on business lending, Legacy's core competencies and culture fit well with our own. This was evidenced when Legacy was named the Small Business Administration's 2006 National Small 7(a) U.S. SBA Lender of the Year, an award that recognizes superior community involvement, customer service and loan growth. With this quality addition to F.N.B. Corporation, in a market with ideal demographics for growth, we are well positioned in our Capital Region. The merger is expected to be accretive to F.N.B. earnings per share after one full year of combined operations. 2007 marks the first full year of operations for Legacy Bank, and we project strong commercial loan production from that region.

Of our five contiguous operating regions, the top target market for growth in 2006 was in our Pittsburgh Region, and I'm proud to announce several exciting developments. First, I would like to welcome two new members to our Board of Directors who hail from the Pittsburgh area, Dawne S. Hickton, who was recently appointed Vice Chairman and CEO-elect of RTI International Metals, and Arthur J. Rooney, II, President of Pittsburgh Steelers Sports, Inc. Both Ms. Hickton and Mr. Rooney recently garnered national attention in The Wall Street Journal. These two highly experienced individuals have already made significant contributions to the Board with their financial expertise and business acumen. On another note, F.N.B. Corporation's commitment to expand into higher growth markets resulted in the opening of First National Bank's newest downtown location at Oliver Plaza, near the growing Cultural District. With our first full year in the Pittsburgh market now complete, I am pleased to say we met our loan production goal of $100 million.

F.N.B. Corporation also continued to support loan production efforts in the rapidly growing Florida Region, opening new offices in Ft. Myers and Naples, with a new Tampa office that recently opened in January 2007. This is a region that F.N.B. Corporation knows well from previous business ventures, and that experience shows in our results. In fact, we closed well in excess of our 2006 $200 million loan sales goal. Our loan originations in the Florida Region will be very instrumental as we journey forward in 2007. We look ahead to continued success in the market under the leadership of our experienced, indigenous employees, including our newly appointed Executive Vice President, Dale Dignam, for the Tampa area. In addition to our Florida loan production offices, we opened a new residential mortgage origination office in Nashville, Tennessee that is contributing to our diverse sources of revenue.

The many accomplishments of F.N.B. Corporation were achieved through the efforts of our affiliates, who played key roles in our Corporation's overall success. Regency Finance Company continues to experience growth which has taken it well beyond the boundaries of Youngstown, Ohio into many small communities in three states where it serves the unique individual financial needs of thousands of consumers.

F.N.B. Capital Corporation was a new line of business in December 2005 that made significant strides in 2006, contributing to our diversification of revenue. We attribute its early success to the strategic targeting of the underserved small- and lower middle-market businesses. F.N.B. Capital Corporation focuses on financial transactions in the areas of ownership transfer and providing of growth capital for expansion or acquisition, and fills out our Corporation's menu of offering a full spectrum of business solutions for our customers.

F.N.B. Wealth Management and First National Insurance Agency, LLC continue to post profitable years, providing the Corporation with solid fee-based income and a means to deepen relationships with clients. Our Wealth Management group was further strengthened this year with the integration of Legacy Trust Company. First National Insurance Agency, LLC continues to stand as one of the largest independent insurance agencies in western Pennsylvania, offering a full line of commercial and personal insurance, employee benefits, bonds and risk management services.

Two strategies that helped us go places in 2006 were leveraging highly successful niche market products and services and introducing first-in-class services throughout our operating area. First National Bank's Lifestyle 50™ banking package for customers 50 years old or better originally received national press in USA Today for its unique social benefits, including an entire range of activities from trips to seminars. Lifestyle 50 banking has grown to over 60,000 members and is now First National Bank's single largest and fastest-growing retail deposit segment.

Our First Desktop Banker electronic check depositing system, an industry first unveiled by First National Bank in 2005, continued to attract new business clients and strengthen customer loyalty in 2006. First Desktop Banker has provided a way to expand customer relationships outside the region to a national level.

First National Bank was also the first major bank in our service area to offer expanded deposit convenience to our customers. With the new "Same Day Banking, All Day," customers can receive same day credit for deposits made at any First National Bank location during business hours. Customers will see the added convenience of simplified recordkeeping, while reaping enhanced service at our teller windows since they will remain open all day. I am pleased to report that these innovative and convenient banking products are paying off for customers as well as our company.

The leadership of F.N.B. Corporation has guided us along our journey in 2006 and helped map our route to success. Combined, our exceptional Board of Directors brings well over 200 years of hands-on banking experience and Wall Street savvy to our organization's helm. Five of our 13 directors serve or have served as CEO of a financial services company. Three are active institutional bank investors. I can't stress enough how important a resource this leadership team is for maintaining F.N.B. Corporation's model for success. I am proud to work alongside each of them and deeply appreciate their guidance and devotion to our Company.

On another note, F.N.B. Corporation Board member Archie O. Wallace, a prominent attorney at law, will be retiring in the coming months. The entire Corporation wants to thank Mr. Wallace for his many years of dedicated service, financial expertise and ongoing leadership. We wish him well in his future endeavors wherever his roads may lead.

Thanks in part to F.N.B. Corporation's positive, national reputation, we're able to continue to recruit and hire top executive talent. In September, First National Bank welcomed new Executive Vice President of Retail Banking, Jonathan W. Roberts, who brings a wealth of retail banking experience and knowledge to our management team.

Finally, I would be remiss if I didn't extend a special thank you to all of our talented employees in the F.N.B. Corporation family. They have met and overcome all the challenges set forth by the year's turbulent market conditions. Our success is a testament to their loyal dedication and hard work. Together, our dedicated employees have successfully integrated many strategic acquisitions and expansion efforts that have re-shaped our organization structure again and again.

As we look ahead to 2007, we find ourselves well positioned for growth based on four widely accepted industry standards of success. First is the ability to shift market share from the competition, which we are already beginning to achieve in Pittsburgh. Second is having a franchise focused on rapidly growing markets. This is true of our loan production office expansion across Florida. Third is having an accretive acquisition strategy, as we have recently executed in Harrisburg. And fourth is having revenue sources diversified into non-traditional banking and non-banking businesses such as F.N.B. Wealth Management, F.N.B. Capital Corporation, First National Insurance Agency and our other independent lines of business.

To get a clearer picture of our total organization and its common road to success, I encourage you to take a journey through the pages that follow. You will be taken on a guided tour through our distinctive regions, each playing an important part in driving F.N.B. Corporation to its primary destination of consistent growth and improved shareholder value. I think you will agree that we are really going places!

Sincerely,

Stephen J. Gurgovits

What better place to start our journey than in the magnificent vineyards of northern Pennsylvania! We've enjoyed taking part in many of the local traditions here, and the people are as friendly as they come!

REGION

Pouring Everything into the Community.

With nearly a century of banking experience under our belts, we first journeyed into the northern reaches of Pennsylvania. That was in the 1990s. Today we call the surrounding area our North Region, and we take great pride in the personal relationships we've developed with our customers here. We enjoy living in our communities, knowing our neighbors, understanding their needs and giving back to the community.

While we continue to maintain the intimate, personal feel you would expect from one of the state's original community banks, we understand our customers' more sophisticated needs and have responded with new and better financial solutions. For instance, First National Insurance Agency, LLC, a subsidiary of F.N.B. Corporation, holds a strong presence in this region. We're one of the largest independent insurance agencies in western Pennsylvania, offering a full line of commercial and personal insurance, employee benefits, life insurance and innovative loss control and risk management tools.

Though the majority of revenue over the past two years has been derived from Property and Casualty Insurance, our Life and Health client base grew significantly this year and promises to be our fastest growing line of business in the future. First National Insurance Agency's net income for the year increased by $484,000 or 128.5% to $860,000 from 2005.

Our relationship with the community goes far beyond the products and services we offer. We believe in good corporate citizenship. It shows in the events we sponsor, like the 25th Annual Wine Country Harvest Festival, and the scholarships and charities our employees support, like the United Way and the American Cancer Society.

We love celebrating the pride and beauty this region offers and look forward to greater financial opportunities right here in our home communities.

Designing Innovative Services.

F.N.B. Corporation, headquartered in the Central Region, is dedicated to growing our commercial business. From the original bank location in Greenville, Pennsylvania to over 150 locations in Pennsylvania and northeast Ohio, First National Bank continues to innovate and offer our commercial clients the latest in products and services to meet changing business requirements and demands.

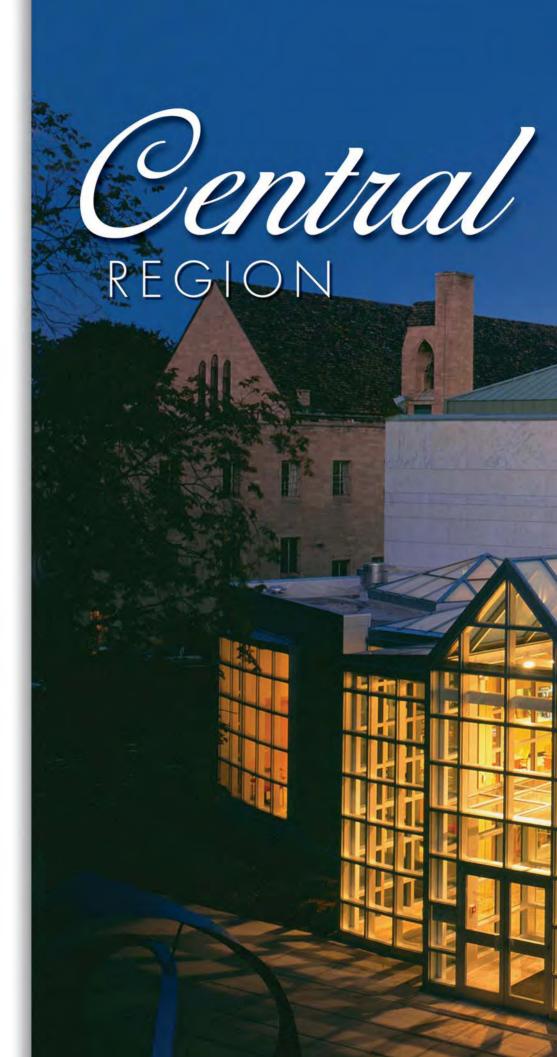

Through several new services designed specifically for our business clients, First National Bank makes it easier than ever to access financial information and move assets. As one of the first banks in the country to offer a desktop banking online check depositing system, our First Desktop Banker service has allowed us to grow our leadership position and customer base nationally. We've also recently introduced "Same Day Banking, All Day," extending the bank's daily cut-off time to the actual close of business, providing clients with the added convenience of same day credit for deposits, quicker service and simplified recordkeeping.

At First National Bank, we also understand that businesses have specialized needs. That's exactly why we have veteran teams of lending professionals who can provide the responsiveness of a local bank with the lending power of a larger financial institution. Our FirstTeam of dedicated business banking experts all work hard to help an ever-growing list of commercial customers succeed, which in turn helps our communities and the region prosper.

Another milepost in our organization's journey was reached in 1975 when F.N.B. Corporation acquired Regency Finance, also headquartered in this region. A consistent driver for the Corporation's success, Regency Finance offers diverse loan products that meet the unique financing needs of our customers. Regency Finance now has more than $150 million in assets and 53 offices in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Tennessee.

Next stop, Pittsburgh...

We enjoyed traveling through this valley so much, we set up our corporate headquarters nearby. Now we're taking in all the new sights and exciting developments going on around us. And even lending a hand!

This area is thriving with opportunity and our presence in this region is expanding. We couldn't be more excited about the prospects of achieving our objectives through the flow of new business.

Commercial Banking: Climbing to New Heights.

In 2004 F.N.B. Corporation first ventured into the Pittsburgh hillsides. We now enjoy a significant presence in a market that is attractive for our retail and commercial banking businesses, as well as our wealth management, mutual funds, annuities and insurance activities.

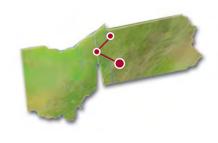

Today we have assembled a team of Corporate Bankers that rivals our largest competitors in sophistication and experience. However, we have maintained our community bank service and local decision-making, allowing First National Bank to provide value to corporate clients of all sizes.

Recognizing that local residential and commercial real estate developers have specialized banking needs, we also formed our Pittsburgh Investment Real Estate Group, a team of seasoned real estate lending and financial management professionals.

Our journey into this region was celebrated with the recent opening of a new location in downtown Pittsburgh. Centrally located near the growing Cultural District, this new branch is positioned to offer a higher level of service to the Bank's corporate and consumer clients based in the downtown area.

F.N.B. Capital Corporation, LLC, headquartered in Pittsburgh, is a subsidiary of F.N.B. Corporation and serves as another example of our commitment to creating and growing full-service relationships with our clients. In 2006 F.N.B. Capital Corporation closed three transactions, proof of the need for mezzanine financing in the area and of its early success. As a result of these transactions, manufacturers are able to keep their operations in our regions — retaining jobs and contributing to the local economy.

The Pittsburgh Region holds so many exciting growth opportunities for expansion in the coming years. We're looking forward to exceeding your expectations!

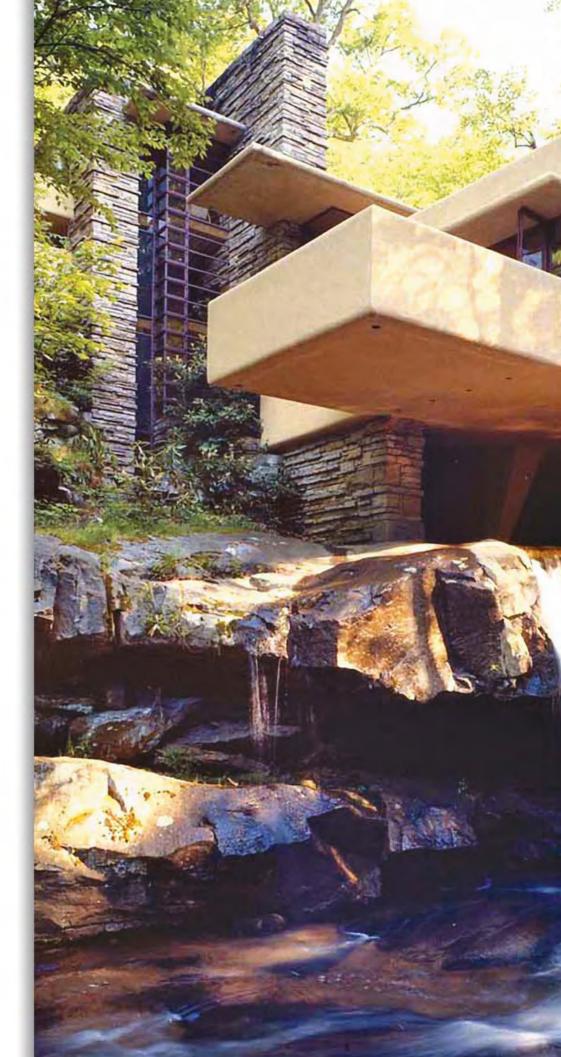

Retail Banking: Going with the Fast Flow of Our Customers.

You've read a great deal about F.N.B. Corporation going places. In our Pittsburgh Region, let's just say our forward thinking is necessary just to keep up with our customers on the go! Two of our most popular banking services can illustrate our point.

With more than 60,000 members strong and growing, First National Bank's Lifestyle 50™ program helps attract a loyal base of customers 50-years-old or better. We're proud to say this program has attracted local and national attention in USA Today for its unique advantages — benefits that cater to our most financially secure consumer market. Customers enrolled in Lifestyle 50 banking receive exclusive interest rate bonuses, free services, and a newly expanded choice of exciting trips, seminars and other special events.

On the other end of the age spectrum, we're helping our younger generation to go places like college. With the new First National Bank Tuition Rewards Program, certificate of deposit holders can earn tuition credits toward any participating private college or university across the United States. Annually, participants get credits worth 5% of their total CD balance. First National Bank partnered with SAGE Scholars to offer this visionary private college scholarship program to our communities. With more than 50 of the participating colleges and universities located in Pennsylvania and Ohio, the program also helps keep students in our regions and promotes growth in the home areas we serve.

Situsout (National Contraction) REGION

Continuing in our Pittsburgh Region, we come to the inviting Laurel Highlands of southern Pennsylvania. Family traditions run deep here, but new ones are always emerging. We've enjoyed spending some quality time getting to know the needs of both the young and those still young at heart!

Frank Lloyd Wright House Mill Run, Pennsylvania

Fallingwater is recognized as one of Frank Lloyd Wright's most acclaimed works. Designed in 1935 for the Kaufmann family in the Laurel Highlands of Pennsylvania, Wright placed the house over the falls in a series of cantilevered concrete "trays," anchored to masonry walls made of the same Pottsville sandstone as the rock ledges.

Thriving Through Reinvention.

Our East Region adds a significant contribution to F.N.B. Corporation's bottom line. With deep roots and impressive customer service, we're keeping customers happy and businesses growing in an area reinvented by tourism and technology.

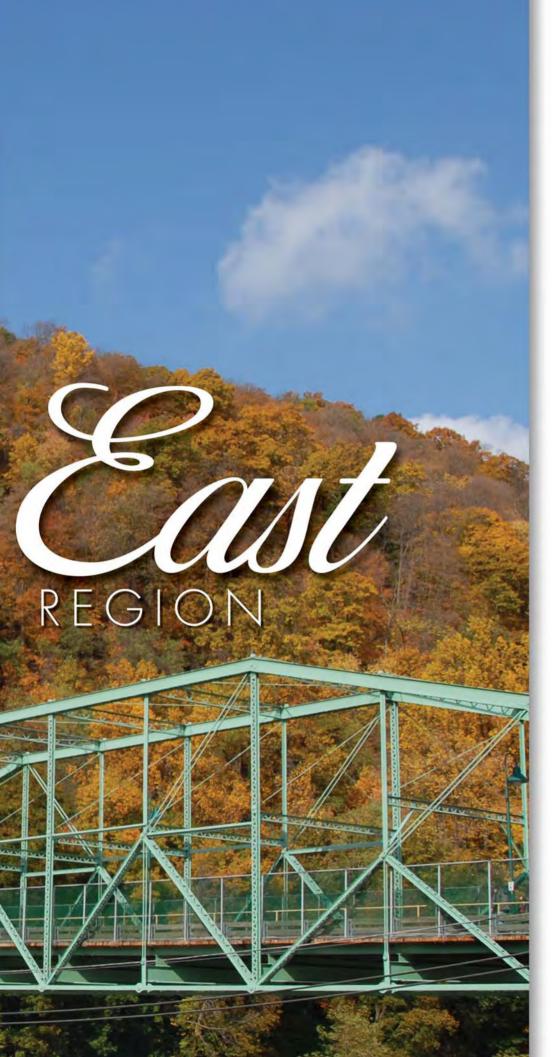

The F.N.B. Wealth Management Group, which continues to have a considerable presence in the East Region, is a subsidiary venturing successfully into all our regions...with particular growth opportunities in Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. The group offers Wall Street-quality investment advice, research and asset management.

Aided by First National Bank's strong existing customer relationships, the Corporation has been able to deepen those relationships through broader, longer-term financial solutions. Cross-selling synergies between our various affiliates has been an important factor in helping F.N.B. Wealth Management build an asset base of more than $1.7 billion.

Recently, our Wealth Management team introduced two new offerings to enhance our suite of investment solutions. Portfolio ProAdvisorTM gives investors access to some of the world's leading investment managers. Skill-Weighted PortfolioTM allows our investment advisors group to provide endowments, foundations and individual investors with a number of key advantages.

With the acquisition and merger of Legacy Bank located in our Capital Region – Legacy Trust Company and Legacy Investment Services have been fully integrated within F.N.B. Wealth Management. The addition of this demographically attractive market area, as well as the ability for Legacy's professional staff to effectively leverage the additional resources through F.N.B. Wealth Management, provides ample organic growth opportunities for wealth management services throughout our Capital Region... which is the next stop on our journey.

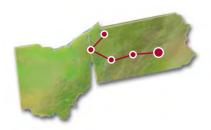

Capitalizing on a Great Merger.

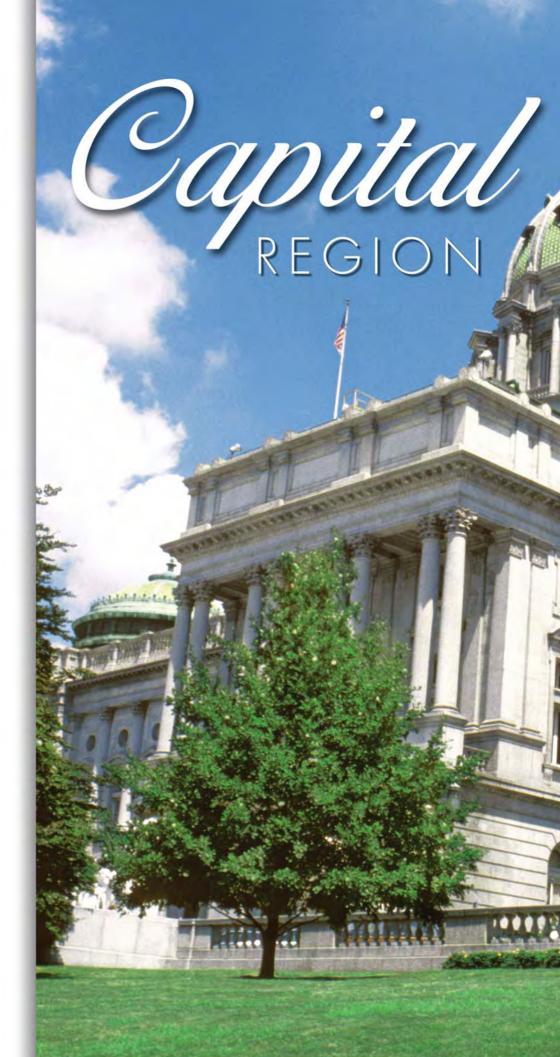

May 26, 2006, marked the merger of F.N.B. Corporation with Harrisburg-based Legacy Bank. To F.N.B. Corporation, the $74.6 million merger is right on target with our strategy of going places. It means supplementing our organic growth by extending our footprint into an excellent growth market — Legacy initially added $375 million in assets and currently operates eight branches in five counties.

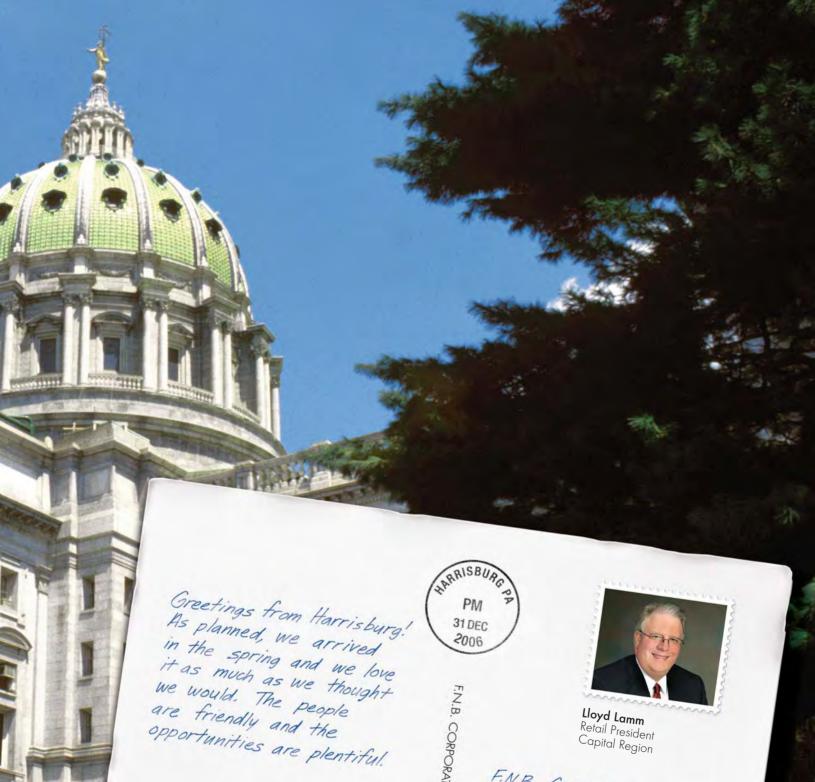

To Legacy Bank, the merger means higher lending limits, giving its customers greater opportunities to grow and prosper, plus access to a whole new selection of products and services. Among those are retail banking services that complement its existing business products and services, and wealth management products that enhance its current trust services.

While some products and services are new to Legacy Bank customers, the faces they're used to seeing remain the same. Regional leadership ensures that policies and decisions affecting local customers stay under the control of local executives — of huge importance to a bank built on better servicing its community.

Legacy Bank's incredible record of achievement in commercial lending is one of the attributes F.N.B. Corporation found most appealing when considering a merger. Not long after the merger, Legacy Bank was named Small Business Administration's 2006 National Small 7(a) U.S. SBA Lender of the Year, based on its community involvement, customer service and loan growth. What a great way to round out our latest journey in our home state as we continue down south.

F.N.B. CORPORATION 2006 ANNUAL REPORT

Jody Hudgins Executive Vice President Florida Region

As further evidence of our growth strategy, in 2006 we doubled our presence in the Florida Region with the opening of two new loan production offices in Ft. Myers and Naples.

Then, in early 2007, we opened another office in Tampa. This move is an excellent opportunity to expand our loan and revenue capacity by capitalizing on Florida's exceptional growth. The types of loans being generated here are commercial real estate in nature, including construction.

In 2006 our commercial loan production was well in excess of our $200 million goal primarily as a result of activities in our Orlando and Sarasota offices. We expect to enhance that positive loan growth with our new offices. Best of all, our team is made up of vastly experienced professionals, many of whom we already know and trust. They are members of the leadership team of our former Florida operation.

The employees representing
First National Bank in Florida understand our strong credit culture and our stringent underwriting standards. The quality of the transactions, the strength of our borrowers, and the rational rates on the transactions are all reasons why we believe this journey into the Sunshine State can only be thought of as a road to success.

Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

F.N.B. Corporation (the Corporation) is responsible for the preparation, integrity and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K. The consolidated financial statements and notes included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K have been prepared in conformity with the United States generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP).

We, as management of the Corporation, are responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting. The Corporation's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed under the supervision of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of the company's financial statements for external reporting purposes in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

The Audit Committee, consisting entirely of independent directors, meets regularly with management, internal auditors and the independent registered public accounting firm.

Management assessed the effectiveness of the Corporation's system of internal control over financial reporting at December 31, 2006, in relation to criteria set forth for effective internal control over financial reporting as described in "Internal Control – Integrated Framework" issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. Based on this assessment, management determined that at December 31, 2006, the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting is effective and meets the criteria of the "Internal Control – Integrated Framework." Ernst & Young LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, has issued an audit report on management's assessment of the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting, included below.

Gary J. RobertsPresident and CEO
First National Bank of Pennsylvania

I'm proud that First National Bank has played such an important role in F.N.B. Corporation's non-stop journey to success. Throughout this annual report, you've taken a tour of our bank's regions and experienced the diversity and future opportunities of each. It is that diversity that unites us and keeps us focused on providing our customers with products and services that help them go places in their personal and business lives.

This past year we have accomplished even more than we planned, as a result of the leadership and guidance of our regional presidents (featured throughout the report), who each have taken their own journeys to offer significant contributions to our success.

Thanks to the unfaltering loyalty and hard work of F.N.B. Corporation's affiliate presidents and the board members shown below and to the right, we continue to work together as a unified team focused on contributing to the success of a truly dynamic company that is really going places.

Kim CraigPresident and CEO
